EXAMINATION IN MEDICINE.

By a Philadelphia Diploma Cheap Doctor:
Examiner: "Where is the stomach of man located?"

Student: "Somewhere between the crown of the head and the sole of the foot."

"Is well. What is the principal use of the stomach?"

"To run up board bills."

"What is it proper to prolong cases of sickness?"

"When the patient is able to pay well."

"Do you bleed?"

"Yes."

"What organ?"

"The patient's pocket."

"Right. What is your favorite style of practice?"

"Visiting each patient three times a day, at five dollars per visit."

"What are indispensable adjuncts to a good practice?"

"Spades, a horse and buggy, a stylish residence, dignity, and a fashionable wife."

"What are the best means for fostering the growth of a small practice?"

"By hanging a large door bell in your house which can be heard over the entire neighborhood, and employing a man to ring it incessantly at night."

"What are orthodox sides to securing practice?"

"Regular attendances at church, and the employment of weather men to run up the aisle during services and call you out every other Sunday."

"Can Bone?"

"That's La J."

"True; but what's the calling and ringing for?"

"To develop the idea abroad of a large practice."

"What are the necessary qualities in a physician?"

"To look wise, talk little, remain non-committal as to the source of the disease and impress on the friends of the patient his medical condition."

"What class of patients should be encouraged in developing imaginary complaints?"

"Women with nothing to do, and plenty of money to do it with."

"Come, you're bound to have an extensive and profitable practice with two years, 'Hark, you're alone,' twenty-five dollars a week." — N.Y. Graphic.

— OFFICIAL.

GOOD REASONS FOR THE DOCTOR'S FAITH.

Moscow, Ga., March 23, 1870.
We have for twelve months been prescribing (Swift's) Syphilis Specific in the treatment of Syphilis and many other diseases for which it is recommended, and the results have been most satisfactory, not having been disappointed in a single instance. We think, for all diseases it is recommended to cure it stands without a peer, and that all the medical profession will sooner or later, be forced to acknowledge it in the treatment of syphilis as a sine qua non.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 22, 1870.
One of our workmen had a bad case of syphilis of five years' standing, and was cured entirely with "Swift's Syphilis Specific."
